Evolving:

The NAC Gallery Group Show

Evolve, verb, to develop gradually, to change over time. Each artist has chosen two pieces for this show that were done at least 10 years apart. The work reflects the influences of new medias or techniques, changes in subject matter, available time or resources and technology. Come see how we have changed.

Gallery Member News

• Carol Dunn won 1st Prize for Graphics for her booth at the 2010 Narragansett Outdoor Festival, and was named winner of the Newport Art Festival "Heart of the Harbor" Poster Contest. She has been accepted to exhibit at the Mystic Outdoor Art Festival, Newport Art Festival, Glastonbury on the Green, and Scituate Art Festival for 2010. She recently donated a piece of artwork to Beacon Hospice's fundraiser event--Beacon is providing services to her dad. She recently taught Gelatin Printmaking and Fine Art Collage at the Lyme Art Association, and is scheduled to teach several classes in July at Meiklem Kiln Works. In May, Carol became a Certified Zentangle Teacher, one of only 4 in Connecticut (for info on this new art form, see www.zentangle.com).

• Memorabilia for Connecticut's 375th Anniversary celebration featuring Mark Patnode's Charter Oak painting are now available on line at www.ct375.com "gift shop" tab and <http://www.barkerstores.com/ct375/>. Some items will be available at the gallery in the near future.

• Carol Chaput is exhibiting "ACROSS THE CANYON, Paintings of the American Southwest," at the Workroom, 11 Washington Avenue, Pleasantville, NY 10570. Gallery hours are Friday 6-9 pm, Saturday 1-7 pm, and by appointment. A "Meet the Artist" reception was held on Saturday, June 26, 2010. The exhibit is sponsored by the James Coleman Architecture Studio and will run through the summer of 2010. Tel: 914-579-2015.
